an instrument like this. We have had one in use for more than a year, and therefore speak with full knowledge when we assert that this is by all odds the best Razor Strop we ever used—and we have had fifty. What an edge it gives how smooth and how fine! The Razor, ster being drawn incross its surface a few times, glides over the face like water, and renders it as delicately soft as that of a Miss

The Strop may be also recommended for its durability. It remains in excellent order, if properly taken care of, for years, and it can have all its virtues renewed when they are gone. To the properties of a Strop it a lds that of a Hone, and one need not rik the spoiling of a Strop it a lds that of a Hone, and one need not rik the spoiling of a good Razor by committing it to the hands of a barber. THE WAVERLY NOVELS COMPLETE,

For Five Dollars.

NOW READY, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 of a new edition of the Waverley Novels, with a fine Portrait of the author. To be completed in 25 weekly numbers, each annabre will contain a complete Novel, comprising two volumes of the Edinburgh Edition or a while work complete for Five Dollars, payable in advance, or 25 cents per single number on delivery.

The works of an author like Scott cannot be too extensively diffused. No one can rise from a perusal of his writings without having been instructed as well as amused. The cause of Religion, Vir of and Morality fines an advocate on every page; Vice will seek encourage ment from the same service in vain.

ever writer deserved universal citizenship, it was Sir Walter Scott."
He was the Poet of Nature—the deline tor of his species in every chimate and on every oil, so that where er his works were known there was he to be regarded as a native and a denizen. It is in this spriit that the publisher of the new edition of the Waverley Novels has undertaken to present them to the American People. He has supposed that he could not render a better or more acceptable service to the great mass of readers than by plucing such a publication within their reach. The revised uniform Edinburgh Edition, from which this is reprinter, comprises lorty-eight volumes, the cost of which is seventy-two dollars. The edition now in course of publication of the WAVEALY NOVELS.

will be fit ished complete, with Portrait and Trile-pages, for rive Bollars.
and will comprise every word in the Edinburgh Edition, the price of which is, as above stated, eventy-two dollars in boards. The work will appear to weekly numbers of about 125 pages each—each umber comprising an entire Novel, printed on good paper, and will be completed in 25 numbers, making five large octavo volumes, of upwards of six hundred pages each; and as the work is already stereotyped, no pessible delay can take place. The publication price affixed to this work is less in reference to the quality of material and style of execution than that of any other production of the press in Europe r America. The investments and expenditures connected with this undertaking are muck greater than u unly attend a republication, and it will be apparent that the public-her must rely on an extensive sals for his remuneration, and that in every instance a remittance of the amount—Five Dollars—myst accompany the order. He appeals with entire confidence to the American Public for a just and liberal support in his end avors to disseminate the means of an enlightened and rational enjoyment.
